Stock Prices Drift Irregularly Toward Lower Level.

Opening at a Decline, the Market Rullies But Agnin Weakens-Lend. ers Unable to Withstand the General Tendency-The Outlook Poor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.- The stock mar ket today had an irregular drift toward g lower level, the movement being pro-nounced in a number of instances, but resionally checked by the appearance of aggressive strength in certain special puarters of the market. Considered as a whole, the subjects which engaged attention upon the opening of business and the developments with the course of the business session were unfavorable

The London market was materially depressed in all of its quarters, partly on account of the alarmist reports current regarding the state of health of the King of England, but chiefly because of apprehensions respecting the money market It seemed to be fored that the Bank of England would advance its offi-cial discount figures on Thursday next, and the money market was decidedly firmer in connection with the continued

The dealings in the New York market, however, for foreign account were upon an extremely small scale, although wholly on the selling side. The local money market showed little actual alteration and sterling exchange continued exceedingly firm.

Virtually no attention was paid to the day's returns of rallway traffic or to the other more or less routine features of the situation. It is hardly necessary to say that the keenest interest was taken in the return to active business of the present foremost figure in American financial affairs, particularly in view of the present concentration of attention upon the Northern Pacific situation. No light was thrown on that general subject, however, in consequence, although it is commonly assumed that Mr. Morgan's presence will tend to expedite a thorough and amicable settlement of the whole business.

The market opened lower in practically very quarter, but St. Paul and Union Pacific developed temporary strength, and the course of these stocks was followed by quite a substantial rally in the remainder of the market. The next downward dip in prices followed the appearance of most decided weakness in Amalgamated Copper, Sugar Refining, and the United States Steel issues, notably the first named St. Paul and Union Pacific also receded sharply, which deprived the market of the sympathetic stendiness it had derived from the early course of those two influential issues. It is hardly necessary to say that little developed to account for the extreme weakness in Amalgamated Copper, and the gossip bearing upon the stock was still virtually confined to the expected reduction in the selling rates for its product. The decline in the United States Steel The decline in the United States Steel Issues was perhaps in part owing to the apprehensions that the capitalists who have unsuccessfully been endeavoring to induce the United States Steel Corporation to purchase the American Can Company might engage in active competition with some of the constituent concerns of the United States St.el Corporation. Observers of the dealings in the United States St.el Corporation. Observers of the dealings in the United States St.el concept that they could trace the heartest seeling of these issues to the would-be venders of the can company.

In addition to St. Paul and Union Pacific, New York Central, Missouri Pacific and Pennsylvania showed occasional firmness, but none of these stocks was able to withstand the weakness which appeared throughout the list with the course of the day. The local craction issues, with the exception of Metropolitan Street Eullway, were also firm in the forenoon, but later sold down with the remainder of the market.

but later sold down with the remainder of the market.

Among the specialties, Tennessee Coal and Iron was particularly weak. Peo-ple's Gas enjoyed a material raily on the announcement of the favorable quo war-rento proceedings before the Chicago courts, but its tendency was short-lived.

The market is still in a wait-ing period, waiting for easy money and for the larger interests to take advantage of easy money, to open a real buil cam-will prove disastrous, if Indications are worth anything.

The operations in yesterday's market were almost entirely professional, and it is not worth while attempting to ascribe reasons for them except in a very general way. The bank statement last week might have been expected to quiet any acute fears that might have been felt regarding the immediate monetary outlook, for it showed that the New York banks have more money than they usually have at this time of the year, and it further indicated that the outlow of cash to the interior must be over or nearly so, as there was a gain in cash its attended the loss that was expected. Notwithstanding this statement, however, there was more talk of alleged fears of traible yesterday than at any time for some weeks. The revent shipments of gold from London to Paris and Berlin were said to foreshadow certain exports of the precious metal from New York this week. It was said that the Bank of Engiand will advance its discount rate to 4 per cent to prevent further shipments to the Continent, and that this will incitably be followed by American shipments to the Continent, and that this will no citably the that gold will go out in small quantities, but this is not a sign of weakness. In a short time the movement of cottom will be heavier and then it will be easy to get gold from the other side if it is needed. At any rate, it is only a temporary matter that need cause no alarm unless possibly to people that have been buying stocks on narrow marpins on the recent advance of prices. Other "adverse" matters dilated on by the bears yesterday were "the winding up of the steel pool," of which there is no information, the "proposed" cut in the price of copper, which is denied by the officers of the Amalgamated Copper Company, and the story that there has been a disagreement between Mr. Morgan and the Union Pacific interests, which as far as can be ascertained is entirely without foundation. It will be sent put this entire chain of bear talk is very flimsy, but it served the purpose

ings, as usually happens.

The most pronounced weakness during the early part of the seasion was in Amalgamated Copper, which tumbled two or three points to the lowest price yet attained by it, it was impossible to tell where the selling came from, though there was a disposition to believe that insiders were still responsible for it. The unnouncement hast week that the Anaconda and the Boston and Montana mines and smelters controlled by the Amalgamated Cempany had been closed to curtail production, and the assertions again yesterday that the price of copper will be cut perhaps to 15 cents and perhaps much lower were the alleged reasons for the selling. There was a recovery in Amalgamated during the last half hour, while the general market was at its weakest.

The United States Steel securities continued to show the weakness that was their chief characteristic last week getting both of them, to the lowest level recently attained. The statement was made in a quarter sometimes well informed, and it was taken up by the bearishly inclined people generally, that the steel peel has finished its work and dissolved, and that these securities will be allowed to take care of themselves in the future. The story need not cause much saviety among helders of the stocks, if there is nothing else wrong, it is, of course, foolish to suppose that if there is any reason for supporting the stocks, they will not be supported by Mr. Morganis lieutenants. And it is out of the question to suppose that the insiders have diaposed of their holdings. Another story heard in the street yesterday was that the Moore Brothers are discuttisticd with the management of the Steel Trust, and intend to fight Mr. Morgan. For this fection too, there seems little excuse. The United States Steel securities con-

The coal scinities, which did very well list week, were dull yesterday, though they held their own fairly well. The outlook for the group is considered excellent by well-informed people, and it seems cattrely probable that they will reach a higher level in the mear future. The statements of the different lines for September and October are certain to show large gains over last year, eseccially the latter, as it was in October of last year that the effect of the strike on carnings was felt most heavily.

EXCELLENT WORK IN PRACTICE Georgetown Tenm Inferior to None

Among the thirty-eight men who re sorted to Ceach Church yestermay afternoon when he mustered his victoriou team on Georgetown University field were two star athletes of the university. These were Holland, the crack quarter-mile runner, and Minahan, the short-distance sprinter. Both did well in the short mile runner, and Minahan, the short-distance sprinter. Both did well in the short practice.

Never before has Georgetown had such an enthuslastic sound of candidates, and great things can be expected if they continue to take the interest in the work that they now do. The game of Saturday seems to have awakened the students to the fact that the Hine and Grey eleven is as good as, if not better than, any that ever represented the university, and every man who knows the least thing about the game will be anxious to make his appearance on the field.

Coach Church could hardly find work enough for the men yesterday. Three full elevens lined up when practice began. Church took the varisty to m from the field and held secret practic, for haif an hour. Then the varisty lined up against the scrubs for twenty minates. The two scrab elevens went through signal practice until the coach was ready to pit them against the varisty.

The varisty succeeded in scoring one touchdown. Holland played at half on the crubs for a short time and showed up well. He is a fast man and showed to acvantage in starting. Hart, who played at fullback on the scrubs, did well, and may be given another trial in the same position. He was promoted from the third eleven.

All the variety players were in good shape. Morman was at half, with Abbatlechio as running mate in place of Rielley and Edmonston, while C. Sletz played fullback. There were several pretty end runs by all these men. They are leding developed, so that in case the regulars are disabled in any of the big games they will feel perfectly at home. The practice will be hard all this week.
